

Prohibition in Ohio will be defeated by a vote of something like 85,000.

In Connecticut, they arrest people for riding on Sunday, but murders they let go.

There is a sort of a temperance revival in Maine. That state needs a little genuine temperance reform.

General Grant is learning the Spanish language. If Grant once gets fairly after the Spanish, he'll get it.

The Democratic plurality in Ohio is only 9,893, a falling off of nearly 10,000 from last year. At this rate the democracy will lose the state in 1884.

Has America any prominent woman who would like to meet the Prince of Wales? Susan B. Anthony and Mary Anderson have already declined that honor.

When Knott and Spofford are searching through the library of congress for humor for their forthcoming book, they should not overlook Butler's remarks to Cox twelve years ago.

Salvini is about to begin his farewell tour in Italy. As it takes about twelve or fifteen years to wind up a farewell concert or dramatic tour, Salvini is beginning early so that he can finish by the time he is 70.

Whenever a democratic candidate is prematurely successful in any of the state, he is instantly put on the presidential course for 1884. This shows that the democratic party is between wind and water as to a candidate.

Europe is sending all its great actors and singers to this country, and we may expect a genuine dramatic and musical boom this winter. When the stars of Europe want an extra fortune and a pleasant time, they come to America, and the hospitality and generosity of our people never fail toward the imported artists.

Mr. Daniel Hannaberry, of Hoosac Falls, New York, is a man of keen perception. A man had his head cut off by the cars near Troy, and the body was identified as that of Mr. Hannaberry, but Mr. Hannaberry came around that evening, took a good look at the mangled remains, and concluded that they were not his. They afterwards proved to be those of Kenton Rossar, of New Orleans.

The department of agriculture has issued a pamphlet on the forests of the United States, and in it the commissioner declares that in Maine the pine forests will last but four years and the spruce but fifteen, while at the present rate of cutting the pine forests of Michigan and Minnesota will be exhausted in ten years, and those of Wisconsin in twenty. How to protect the forests of the old northwest is becoming a serious question.

There is not a democrat in this country of average intelligence, who will deny that ex-Senator Eaton, of Connecticut, is a democrat in good standing. While in the United States senate he said a great many good things, and while out of the senate is maintaining the excellent reputation he established on the floor of the senate chamber. The other day a friend of his, who is also a democrat asked him, "Well, what do you think of the prospects for 1884?" "I don't know," "Well, but hasn't Ohio gone democratic?" "Why yes." "What's the trouble then?" "I'll tell you," said the senator, "the democracy twenty-five years ago, took out a patent for making a fool of themselves, and it has never been infringed upon."

Alva H. Doan, a clerk in the United States Pension office at Washington, has invented a method of displaying weather signals in the country for the benefit of farmers which may be adopted by the signal service bureau. It provides for a system of signal flags to be known as farmers' signal flags, which are to be displayed from the side of United States mail-cars, which pass rapidly and continuously over the country on a great network of tracks. The flags will signal information as follows: white, meaning clear weather; blue, fair weather; red, doubtful weather, and black, stormy weather or high winds. The signals can be ordered up from Washington by telegraph, and the cost of the entire system, it is said, will be insignificant.

The North American Review for November, by the liveliness and the sterling worth of the articles it contains, satisfies the requirements of the most exacting reader. Senator H. B. Anthony writes of "Limited Suffrage in Rhode Island," giving incidentally a highly interesting sketch of the early constitutional history of that little commonwealth. Dr. Norman Green, president of the Western Union company, in an article entitled "The Government and the Telegraph," presents statistics designed to prove that the service in this country is both cheaper and more efficient than in any of the countries of Europe where the governments own the lines. The Rev. David N. Uter brings out from oblivion the record of certain alleged atrocious crimes of "John Brown of Ossawatimie." There are two scientific articles, namely, "Solar Physics" by Professor Balfour Stewart, and "Modern Explosives," by General John Newton. W. H. Mallock contributes "Conversations with a solitary." In "Suggestions in regard to the Public Service," Green B. Room offers certain facts going to prove that the clerks and other employees of the government departments at Washington, even before the passage of the civil service act, were in the main both faithful and efficient. Finally, "Dr. Hammond's Estimate of Woman," is reviewed by Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake. Miss Nina Morris, Mrs. Sara A. Underwood and Dr. Clemence S. Lezier. Fifty cents a copy; $5 a year. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, and sold by newsdealers generally.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS DECISION.

In a brief discussion of the decision of the supreme court pronouncing the civil rights bill unconstitutional, the Milwaukee Sentinel says:

The decision of the supreme court pronouncing the civil rights law unconstitutional so far as it applies to the states is of less importance than it would be if the law had not, since its enactment, remained substantially a dead letter. Laws in order to be of much avail, must have the active and efficient support of the great majority of the people. It is impossible to secure equal equality by statute.

The Sentinel is in error in assuming that the civil rights law has been in the main a dead letter. It is true that social equality can never be secured by any law congress may enact. The prejudice against color was so strong and deep-rooted even in the north, that in very many cases a negro, no matter how respectable and well-beloved he may have been, was not treated with common decency in railway cars, street cars, theaters, and other public places. There was a disposition to "fire him out" of passenger cars, to refuse him a reserved seat in a theater, and to deny him accommodation at hotels. He had no redress, because public sentiment was largely against him.

The supplementary civil rights bill was passed with a view to guarantee the colored people as many social rights as was possible, and to prevent them from being expelled from hotels, theaters, other public places, and railroad cars. To a certain extent it had an excellent influence. Their rights in these matters were respected to a large degree both in the north and in the south, since the supplementary civil rights bill became a law. It did not wipe out the color line altogether so far as social matters were concerned, but it did much to compel white men to pay a decent regard to the social rights of negroes.

We believe the effect of the supreme court decision will be to surround the colored people with a good deal of trouble, especially in the south. Some men in authority at hotels and theaters, and in railway cars, will take particular pains when the civil rights bill is held null and void, to treat the negro with contempt and deprive him of the rights which common justice would accord him. In this respect, the decision will do much harm. From a strict legal point of view, the judges of the supreme court may be right, but in other regards the opinion is a misfortune, and can not but prove a severe and an unjust blow to thousands of worthy colored people.

PUBLISHING THE POOR.

In all large cities the question of properly providing for the poor and guarding against fraudulent claimants for public charity, is one that can not always be settled wisely and in all cases justly. There will be frauds perpetrated upon the poor department regardless of the closest inspection of the officers, and how to place a check upon them has not been successfully learned. The Milwaukee poor department has been troubled very much by frauds, and as a method of detecting them, the supervisors have ordered that all the names of those who are receiving aid from the county shall be published in all the papers in the city.

There are some objections to this mode of seeking to shame those who are stealing charity from the city or country, and the chief one is given by the Evening Wisconsin: "To the undeserving pauper, it will be no punishment to have his name paraded in the public prints. His pride and sense of manhood are already so blunted that he feels no humiliation in being known as a dependent; else having property of his own, he would not declare himself a pauper and accept public aid." A person whose senses of honor are so blunted that he will pretend to be a pauper for the purpose of getting even a humble subsistence without work, can not be reformed by seeing his name published among the county paupers.

Then there are the worthy poor—those that have been made paupers by long continued sickness or crushing business misfortune. These belong to the class of honorable poor. In their extreme poverty, they still have sensitive natures, and a pride that is no disgrace. To parade their names before the public as beggars would be a severe blow to their manhood and womanhood, and beside that would do no particular good. We believe with the Wisconsin, that it would be far better to give temporary aid to unworthy paupers than to do anything that shall increase the number of those who have no conscience, and who are content to be known as paupers.

The Lincoln Horror.

TRYING TO FIX THE GUILT.

LINCOLN, Ill., Oct. 18.—As time passes the mystery surrounding the death of Zora Burns becomes more impenetrable. The place where she was found has been frequently visited, and a thorough search instituted for her missing clothes or any clue which would lead to the most unimportant discovery. The place is very secluded, being about one mile and a half from the center of the city. A wide lane, a half or three-quarters of a mile in length, leads west from Union street, and is called Seventeenth street. Near the western terminus of this lane a private one branches north and ends three hundred yards from the main one. A gate prevents further progress, and at this point the girl was found by an aged Irish lady, who was en route for town. When first discovered the dead woman was lying on her face. Her clothes were not disarranged. Two or three houses are within a few hundred yards of the place, but a view is obstructed by large hedges. A man living near by states that Sunday night, between seven and eight o'clock, a buggy passed his house at a rapid pace. The voices of a man and woman were heard, the latter talking in a high key, as though she was reproaching him. This was before the private lane was reached, and he did not see the woman. He forced the conclusion that the woman on the forehead was inflicted just before reaching this lane, when the wretch hastily drove to the end of it, finding his way barred, finished his atrocious work.

The only person with whom she talked while here was Mr. O. A. Carpenter, a leading grain merchant and prominent citizen. Zora visited Mr. Carpenter because she worked for a long time in his family. While there she received the attention of two young men, Thomas Dukes and another whose name has not been given. They were rival suitors. It is said the girl declared her love for the one named Dukes, who proposed and was accepted. He left here in March, 1883, and was to make her his wife on the 30th inst. She has been corresponding regularly with Dukes who is now at Kewanee, Fulton County, Ind. The last letter received from him was on the 2d of October, shortly after she became engaged.

A letter was also produced which she had recently addressed to him from St. Elmo, but had never mailed. There are also forty or fifty others, but the contents can not be given until they are placed before the coroner. All these documents were brought here by the father of the girl, Mr. William H. Burns. The father was doubly shocked when all the facts were communicated to him. He has telegraphed Dukes at Kewanee to meet him here. The father of the girl is with the sheriff, and no one is allowed to talk with him. At three o'clock in the afternoon Mr. John T. Hayden, coroner of Logan County, impelled a jury and proceeded to receive evidence. The jury is composed of David Giespie, George L. Haug, T. W. Kenyon, Samuel Stern, Henry Ahrens and Simon Rock. After organizing the jury took a look at the body and then adjourned to the court-room where they are holding their session with closed doors. The order excluding reporters, and in fact every one but officers, created great dissatisfaction. However, we are enabled to give an account of the proceedings. Mrs. Patrick Jewett testified that she found the body lying on the ground, and that she saw the girl's face. The dead girl was lying at full length on her face with her head inclined to the right. The right hand was doubled under the body and the left extended from the side. When she made the discovery she cried for help. A man named Christ Lawrence, who works as a day laborer, heard her cries and approached. Lawrence says he made an examination of the ground and found the tracks of an unshod horse and the tracks of the wheels of a vehicle. Gertrude and Fannie Carpenter, at whose father's house the girl lived, were sworn relative to the whereabouts of their father, O. A. Carpenter, Saturday and Sunday evenings. They admitted his absence from the house until eleven o'clock, but were not positive as to the hour, as they had retired. Mrs. O. A. Carpenter, the mother of the girl and the wife of the man, was brought before the jury, and substantiated the statements of her daughters, and also said her husband was nervous Sunday, but attributed it to business cares. After leaving the court-room she reeled and exclaimed to her escort, Deputy Sheriff Cunningham: "I believe they suspicion my husband." George D. Corcoran, an insurance agent, said as he passed by the Lincoln House entrance Saturday evening about eight o'clock he saw a man apparently waiting for some one, but the witness was not positive whether or not it was Carpenter. The stable-boy in Mr. Carpenter's employ knows a great deal, but he has not yet been summoned. It is asserted he has stated that the horse and buggy were out both nights, and he was told not to wait for their return.

In obedience to the demands of the public, the Board of Supervisors assembled and offered $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderer. To this will be added $200 by the State as much more by the city. The largest will continue several days, as the stepmother of the girl will be summoned from Fayette County.

A Place Where Life is at a Discount.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Oct. 18.—A bad state of affairs exists along the advance line of the Mexican Railway. Six men have been murdered during the past two weeks and life is at a discount. A party of railway men yesterday found the skeletons of three Texas cattle thieves, murdered at Glorieta four years ago. The exact fate of the thieves was unknown until now.

CIVIL RIGHTS.

An Interesting Communication from Attorney-General Brewster—Illinois Colored People's Convention.

NO REDRESS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Attorney-General Brewster recently reviewed a communication addressed to the President by J. W. Miles, a prominent representative of the colored race of Arkansas, in which which was set forth certain alleged grievances which the blacks of that State complained of having received at the hands of both private persons and of the civil authorities. The Attorney General says: "Your statement has received careful attention, for no good citizen, whether in public or private station, will regard with indifference injuries such as those under which these people are said to be laboring. The questions, however, which you raise are questions of law, and so, of course, are to be determined by the Constitution of the United States as interpreted by the Supreme Court. For instance, it is very much to be regretted that impediments should be thrown in the way of the efforts of our colored fellow-citizens to better their condition by regularly entering and settling upon the public lands, but it appears that the particular lands which you speak of are public lands of the State of Arkansas, and that State has entire control of them. Clearly then, the United States, having no power over the subject, can not interfere for your relief; nor can the United States interfere by their reserve power in respect to the prosecutions of those who, you complain, are the ones which you represent as so oppressive and enforced by imprisonment. If the laws of Arkansas, under which these prosecutions and these fines are imposed, are contrary to the Constitution of the United States, the remedy has been placed by the Constitution in your own hands by an appeal from the judgment of the State courts to the Supreme Court of the United States. The same is true of the cruel punishments inflicted upon the colored people at prison farms, to which, upon trifling pretenses, they are condemned. If the State laws, under which the privileges are had are unconstitutional, the only remedy is by an appeal to the highest court of the State, and from that to the Supreme Court of the United States. The Executive of the United States has no power whatever in the premises. As to mere mob violence, neither the President nor any other authority of the United States can afford redress. It is only in the case of such usurpations as the State can not put down that the power of the Executive of the United States can be employed, and then only when invited by the Legislature or Governor. The judicial power to try and punish the individuals who make such a mob and commit such outrages as you describe, rests in the State alone where these acts are directed against life and personal liberty."

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 18.—The Colored State Convention of Illinois adopted a memorial containing the sentiment that tends to hasten and complete the passage of the Civil Rights bills of the future. The resolutions declare that the Republican party welcomes the negro to the ballot-box only, and that competent colored men have been refused appointments in the central and southern parts of Illinois.

BETRAYED AND FRIENDLESS.

A Girl Sentenced to Death in Canada for Killing Her Baby.

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 18.—Maria McCabe, a servant girl, who threw her illegitimate child into a cistern three months ago in this city, has been sentenced to be hanged on December 18. The father of the child is believed to be a well-known saloon-keeper, who is married. The girl was recently from Ireland, and is without friends. The history of the case is sad. Maria was betrayed by a married man, who refused to do anything for her. Having no friends in this country she went to the City Hospital November last, and took the baby boy to the home of Mrs. Foster, where she was employed as a servant. The employer was very kind to the child, making clothes for it. The girl became troubled and told her friends she was sick of the baby and wanted to get rid of it. In April Mrs. Foster missed the child. When questioned Maria said she put it out to board. She would not say where. August 2 Maria was in the city with a child who lifted the cover of the cistern and the body of the baby was found floating in the water. The lady recognized the child by the clothes she had made for it, and Maria, who was working in another place, was arrested. She broke down and confessed to the deed of the cistern on March 7. When arraigned she pleaded guilty to a charge of murder. The judge shed tears as he passed the sentence of death and the girl was led shrieking from the courtroom. It is believed efforts will be made to have the sentence commuted.

Buried Alive.

DAYTON, O., Oct. 18.—Between two and three o'clock yesterday afternoon, while Charles Hyrnamus, a German, was at the bottom of a well nearly fifty feet deep, the shell of staves built over the inside to protect the staves gave away just above him, throwing him in about four feet of gravel. Charles Diers, who was working with him, was lowered into the well to rescue him, when he was also caught. He was soon rescued, sustaining a broken shoulder-blade. Efforts were at once commenced to rescue Hyrnamus, but the gravel continued caving faster than the workmen could take it away. At midnight he was still in the well, with earth nearly covering him. When the stone protection gave way it formed a sort of crevice or crack a few inches in width, through which the unfortunate man could breathe. At midnight he was still alive and prayed for some one to give him a knife so that he could cut his throat. There is but small hope of rescuing him alive.

WARRIORS MEET.
Sixteenth Annual Reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, at Cleveland.
Many Prominent Chieftains Present—A Visit to Garfield's Tomb—The First Day's Session.

The Veterans.
AN ENTERTAINING ASSEMBLY.
CLEVELAND, Oct. 18.—There is a large number of veterans in attendance on the Reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, which began yesterday morning. The streets are crowded with strangers, who are attracted by the assemblage of old warriors.

The society formed at the Kenard House at 10:30 a. m. and marched in procession, about two hundred in number, with a band of music. Major Howe and Captain Barber carrying the society's colors, and General Sherman and Leggett, arm in arm, at the head of the column, to the Ontario-Street Tabernacle, where a business-meeting was held.

General Sherman, President of the society, on calling the meeting to order, tendered congratulations on the large attendance, the apparent good health of the members, and the auspicious circumstances surrounding the beginning of the reunion. Though eighteen years have elapsed, said he, since we ceased using arms and took up the pen and the tongue, this our sixteenth reunion since the formation of the society.

The original date for this meeting was fixed for October 4, the anniversary of the extraordinarily brave and gallant defense of Corinth in 1862, but I was obliged to go on a long trip in the Far West, and the meeting was postponed on my account, for I am profoundly grateful to see the old comrades-in-arms. General Sherman saw in Washington, and he was exceedingly anxious to be here, but was prevented by the illness of his wife. He commissioned me to represent him, and I kept away by pressing business. General Grant has just telegraphed that he hopes to be here. The weather is beautiful, the people seem pleased to see their old war horses, and I am truly glad to see so many of my old comrades in this beautiful city.

Committees were appointed to select officers, an orator, and the place of next meeting. The annual reports were submitted, and routine business was transacted. Letters of regret were read from General Hancock, Crook, Prior, Harrison and others.

The committee to consider the question of holding the next reunion in the Yellowstone Park reported that satisfactory arrangements had not been made with the railroad, and the matter was recommitted.

A resolution to wear uniforms at the reunion and society badges at all times was tabled by a decisive vote.

A telegram was read inviting the society to meet at Cincinnati next week with the Society of the Army of the Cumberland. General Sherman, in reading the telegram, said it would be impossible for him to be there, but he hoped all who could would attend and represent this society. He said the two armies were closely related, were almost Siamese twins.

A MILLIONAIRE UPSET.
William H. Vanderbilt Dashed from His Wagon and Injured Slightly.
New York, Oct. 18.—An unusual assemblage of Wall street men at the Windsor Hotel last evening was startled by the news that Mr. William H. Vanderbilt had been thrown from his wagon a few hours before. On the heels of this information came assurances that he was not seriously injured. The accident occurred about five o'clock on the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Association at Fleetwood Park. A large number of turfmen were present to see a trot which was postponed on account of the death of Mr. George B. Alley. Mr. Vanderbilt was speeding East River before a light collision with a road-wagon when he came in collision with a skeleton wagon before which one of Mr. David Bonner's trainers was exercising a colt. Mr. Vanderbilt was approaching the pole, going on the reverse of the track the inside of the inside fence. The driver had about a 2:30 gate. It is said that the right side of the inside fence was struck by the inside of the inside fence. Mr. Vanderbilt pulled out to leave the track the two vehicles crashed together. Mr. Vanderbilt's sufficient force to flip Mr. Vanderbilt's wagon nearly over his head. Mr. Vanderbilt landed on his right shoulder. In an instant he was surrounded by a crowd. He was unconscious. His friend, Mr. William Turnbull, and others placed him in a chair and carried him to the platform of the club-house. Ten minutes after the accident he was walking. He entered a close carriage provided by Mr. Gabe Case and in company with Mr. Turnbull was driven to his home.

Excitement in Wall Street.
New York, Oct. 18.—The wholesale liquidation in the stock market that began on Monday continued Wednesday, and was apparently more extensive than on any one day since Garfield was shot. According to the official records nearly 700,000 shares of stock changed hands during the day. A very large proportion of the sales were long stock. As on Monday and Tuesday, the fluctuations Wednesday were slight and unimportant. The bears met no exceeding substantial. The bears met no exceeding substantial. Eastern Roads Adopt the New Time.
New York, Oct. 18.—The new system of regulating railroad time was adopted Wednesday at a convention of Eastern railroads held at 46 Bond street, and attended by representatives of forty-six roads. A letter was read from Admiral Shufeldt, of the Naval Observatory in Washington, which expressed great satisfaction at the contemplated change. The new arrangement will go into effect November 15.

Headly Will Recognize the Negro.

MISCELLANEOUS.
WE WARRANT
EVERY BOTTLE OF DOW'S
LIVER CURE.
Many people doubt the genuineness of testimonials which are many times given by persons who have not used the medicine. But who will question the following one furnished by the Hon. C. G. Williams: "My family have given Dow's Liver Cure a thorough and fair trial, and I unhesitatingly pronounce it worthy of all that is claimed for it by its proprietor."
The Hon. Wm. H. Edwards, of Milwaukee, says: "Myself and family are using Dow's Liver Cure, and believe it to be the most reliable medicine for biliousness, sick headache, etc., that has yet been introduced in this country, relieving all such ailments as these ailments of diseases so prevalent in this western climate. It has my cordial commendation."
We, the undersigned, have used Dow's Liver Cure ourselves and in our families, for many of the diseases for which it is recommended, and we pronounce it a most reliable and efficient medicine and unhesitatingly recommend it to all sufferers.

JOHNSTOWN CENTER.
—Good sharp frosts now, ice formed on eight of an inch thickness.
—A good many lots of tobacco sold at prices ranging from 12 to 16 cents.
—Rev. Mr. Barrow is expected to preach next Sabbath at 2:30 o'clock.
—Some of the boys are going to the woods of the north for the winter.
—Mr. H. B. Johnson is at Lima, buying barley and paying good fair prices, and is a good man to deal with.
—The painters are making a great attraction for the better in M. O. Morse's house.
—The church at Johnston is undergoing repairs at the hands of the committee appointed by the Ladies Aid society, consisting of Mrs. L. L. Fletcher, Mrs. F. L. and Mrs. Henry Stone. Messrs. Rogers & Hutchinson has the job of painting and calicoing. We understand that a new platform and pulpit is to be built.
—Farmers who have not done their thrashing wear long faces during this weather.
—Plovers is rather behind on account of the rain.
—Corn is being fed to the hogs as fast as they can be persuaded to eat it, as it is not fit to crib.
—Mr. Cheney has sold his house and lot in Johnston to a Mr. Pratt.
—The whistle at the new boiler house on the country farm, awakes the drowsy ones now, in the early morning. Every one speaks of the new boiler house, as a substantial structure, which is more than can be said of some of the other buildings on the farm.
—We hear commendations of the Gazette on all hands, for its size, arrangement and the interesting reading matter it contains. One man thinks he can do without his Chicago Weekly now.
NOTICE.
The undersigned has forwarded to each member of the county teachers' library association his or her certificate of membership, and number, so that the post-office address may be known. If any have not received them I will mail them again on receipt of the proper address.
